

THE TRANSITION VAULT

LIFE STYLE

Myth Buster

MILLION DOLLAR WIN

This is the first myth I want to handle! Sis, the myth that in order to live a lifestyle of abundance you have to have a million dollars. I have found the more you have; The more you have to handle, the million-dollar win is learning how to make what you have work for you

FANCY CARS & HOUSES

I know I have a good lifestyle because I live in the biggest house on the block and I have a Lexus girl. Wheeew I use to think that, in real life, I found a better house with more bedrooms and a better mortgage in a nice neighborhood that saved me thousands a year. Thats a lifestyle!

GIRL YOU STYLING

The myth that the only way you are in the lane of the rich and famous is to have the red bottoms and the LV's hanging on the arm. If this is a reach that won't cause you to be bankrupt, then cool. However, the real lifestyle is when you learn how to buy assets before you buy liabilities. Sis, don't get me wrong I like nice stuff but not at the cost of my sanity, looking good while trying to figure out how to pay the light bill.

ACHIEVEMENTS YES

Often it is believed that you are the sum of your achievements and this is what makes you. Your achievements should only compliment you, If all you are refers to rewards and plaques this is shallow living that causes you have no true identity.

In closing, never believe that every transition in life is the same, a lifestyle is not predicated by how much you have it is how well are you living. Here at the transition vault, we teach women how to live to have a real-life! I remember being tired of painting the life I wanted to be filled with so much stuff that all lost its purpose in my next transition, but when you live purpose, stuff begins to shrink as you gain more access. Are you ready to truly live and unlock your vault?